

laguna basic

Thanks to the ergonomic design of the Laguna range of bathtubs, one can enjoy a relaxing bath alone or in company. As a result of the modular form of construction, our wooden bathtubs can be supplied in different forms of execution. Thus, they can be supplied as fully equipped Jacuzzis and can – if the customer so desires – be installed direct in a bathroom or yacht. The use of wood as natural material in combination with our know-how from modern yacht building makes it possible for us to produce your personalized bathtub.

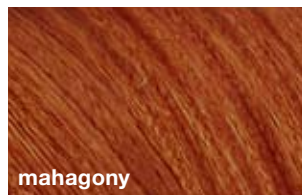

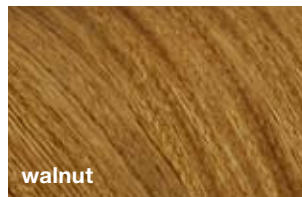

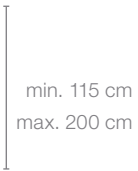

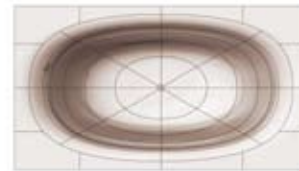

laguna basic – The model for smaller rooms.

Its rectangular external form enables it to be integrated simply into existing bathrooms. This means that a conventional bathtub can be replaced without too great expenditure with this wonderful wooden-interior bathtub. Many other applications are conceivable too, for instance in a large yacht, in a hotel room, in a wellness or sauna area, in the corner of a private bathroom or wherever.

specifications

Our bathtubs are manufactured of the best possible materials. Carefully selected wood veneers are compressed together under high pressure and completely saturated with resin. This means that the possibility of wood spikes, saturating of the wood with water and other unsightly signs of wear are excluded. The extremely resistant special varnish has been tested under the hardest conditions. It guarantees optimal protection and a very long service life for the wooden bathtub. And – should a few scratches have appeared after some years – then these can be easily polished away again by the customer. Basically, we can manufacture our products from every conceivable type of wood. However, in view of the very large number of different sorts of wood, we have limited our stock to a selected range at the present time. Nevertheless, through our good relationships with our suppliers, we can obtain any particular wood that might be desired within a reasonable period of time. Just let us know your wishes - we can make almost anything possible!

We only use certified wood from forests with controlled felling and reforestation.
